New Survey of BARC Property Will Study Land Needs for Future Research

by Elaine Skolnik

A review of the land use of the 7,000-acre Beltsville Agricultural Research Center (BARC) begins this month. In a letter to Congressman Steny Hoyer, Executive Director Joshua Muss of the Federal Property Review Board announced that the study will be conducted by Sasaki Associates of Watertown, Massachusetts for the Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service (ARS). Sasaki developed the 1979 BARC Master Plan.

In his letter Muss noted that the "purpose of the review is very limited. It will analyze what property assets at BARC are needed to accomplish the research program which has been approved in the BARC Six Year Plan. It is our intention that this BARC review serve as a model example of the value in considering land use as a part of the agency program planning processes."

Jesse Jacobs, special assistant to Hoyer, said: "We will watch the process very carefully, as we have in the past. We are concerned about the outcome."

Earlier Study

A previous evaluation by a General Services Administration (GSA) survey team in January 1983 had been postponed to June 1983, but it was never carried out. Reasons suggested for the lack of action vary. Opponents of further sales of BARC land believe pressure from Hoyer, U.S. Senators Charles McC. Mathias and Paul Sarbanes, State Senator Leo Green and other state, county and municipal officials, including those from the city of Greenbelt, was a key factor in cancelling the study.

Of particular concern at the time was the proposed sale of 260 acres of BARC land declared unneeded by the Department of Agriculture in October 1982. Although the land was turned over to GSA for disposal, the sale has been put "on hold" until the latest review is completed, according to a spokesperson from the Department of Agriculture.

Bruce Selson, director of the Federal Property Review Board, said the 1983 GSA evaluation was cancelled so that a broader study could be conducted — one that would be an "in house" study by Sasaki involving BARC scientists as well.

At the time of the GSA evaluation in 1983, GSA said its goal was to determine if BARC land was being properly utilized and if it should be sold to other federal agencies or to state and local governments or be auctioned off to private developers.

Selson notes that in the upcoming review, scientists would be asked to determine what their programs would encompass in the next six years and which parcels of BARC land would be needed to accomplish their activities. In this way, he noted, the board would get a "snapshot of where they will be in 1985 to 1990."

Michael Hobach, confidential assistant to the Assistant Secretary of Agriculture for Science and Education, explained that the latest review will broaden the previous study by also including BARC tenants in the process—the Federal Drug Administration, the Secret Service, the Environmental Protection Agency, the Treasury Department, etc., but excluding NASA. Hobach added: "We want an update on property utilization — the immediate and long-range needs of BARC scientists and tenants. This is not a 'quick run through; we are looking at property in depth.'"

Disposal of the 260 acres of surplus land and the creation of recent studies of BARC land are being accomplished under President Reagan's Executive Order 12348 (dated February 25, 1982), which set up the Federal Property Review Board to screen available land for sale. The executive action was taken in the hope that sale proceeds would help reduce the federal deficit.

The reduction in 1979 of 1,050 acres of the then 8,220-acre Beltsville facility resulted from (1) a 1972 executive order under which various parts of BARC were declared "excess" over a period of years, and (2) a GSA survey performed in late 1978. Of the 1,050 acres "excessed" 350 acres were turned over to the Patuxent Wildlife Research Center and 500 to 600 acres to the Goddard Space Flight Center.

A total of 2,200 acres have been stripped from BARC in the past 13 years—most given to other federal agencies, some sold to private interests. One parcel, wholly within the industrial tract on the north side of Sunnyside Avenue, sold for $50,000 an acre.

Sasaki

In January 1984, the Agricultural Research Service signed a $27,000 contract with Sasaki Associates for the 90-day study. The firm's report will be sent to ARS to be reviewed by land management personnel at the Department. Both the Federal Property Review Board and Representative Hoyer will be given the report.

In the meantime, the Greenbelt city council on February 6 directed the City Manager to contact the new BARC Director, Dr. Waldemar Klassen, to learn more about the study.

Preliminary reports are also expected soon on the results of an archeological survey of that section of BARC which has been declared surplus. The survey, which has been conducted by the Mid-Atlantic Archeological Research Corporation, a New Jersey firm, has looked for fossils, artifacts and evidence of Indian occupation on the property. According to GSA regulations, the exploration is required to determine any possible historic value of a property before it is put up for sale. Following results of the survey, a determination will be made by GSA on what should be done with the so-called surplus acreage. According to Horbach, results of the archeological survey will be studied together with the upcoming review.

Coop Will Maintain Divestiture Schedule

Greenbelt's city council has received a reply to its mid-January letter in which it asked that Greenbelt Cooperative, Inc. (GCI) to extend its time-frame for divestiture of its food store and service station operations.

In a January 31 letter to Mayor Gil Weidenfeld and made available to the News Review, Paul O. Mohn, GCI Board Chairman, said, "In response to your request for an extension of the time period, I would like to point out that the board's resolution on divestiture stated that the March 1 deadline was for the submission of a credit-worthy proposal. This does not anticipate that a group would be expected to be in a position to assume operations at that time, but merely to have a basic proposal. In checking with various resources we have been informed that the allotted time is sufficient. To delay further may have deleterious effects on the Cooperative in many aspects, particularly with respect to marketability of the facilities."

Voter Registration

March is Voter Registration Month in Prince Georges County. Residents who wish to register to vote in May 8 presidential primary election can call 627-2814 anytime. Remember, voter registration is as close as the telephone. Don't wait, call now. That's 627-2814.

Jaycee Women Rent Infant Car Seats

The Greenbelt J.C. Women have adopted a new project called Buckle-up-Babes. Effective January 1 all children under 4 must be in seatbelts. The J.C. Women have 16 infant car seats, 8 of which are available. There is a fee for renting the car seat. Upon return of the seat, half of the money will be refunded. The other half is used for purchasing more infant car seats. These car seats are for infants from birth to nine months. People who want more information or who would like to rent an infant car seat should contact Barb at 441-1010.

CORRECTION

In last week's story on the citizens' Save Our Services (S.O.S.) Committee, it was misreported that Helen White had argued that the Committee focus on legal questions surrounding the proposed divestiture by Greenbelt Cooperative Inc (GCI) of its food and auto service divisions. White, a GCI employee, argued instead for the Committee to be involved in investigating the interest of independent operators in assuming the operations of the facilities after Co-op divests. The News Review regrets the error.

New Co-op Gets Name And Financing Plan

by Jim Cassels

Greenbelt Consumers Cooperative is the name selected by the Committee to Preserve Greenbelt's Co-op facilities at its Feb. 3 meeting. This will be the corporate name in which it will take over and control the assets of the local Co-op food store, pharmacy and service station.

The new Co-op expects to take over management and operation of the facilities on April 1.

To finance the purchase, Greenbelt Consumer Cooperative (GCC) plans to raise 20% from Co-op members and 80% from bank loans, probably from the National Consumer Cooperative Bank. GCC is asking for contributions to help with the organizing expenses, $100 memberships, loans at 6% interest and $100 Save Our Co-op Certificates selling for $95, refundable after one year. Details are outlined in their ad appearing elsewhere in this paper.

The organizers of GCC meet each Friday evening at 8 in the Greenbelt Homes Board Room. All interested people are invited to attend.

S.O.S. to Meet

Save Our Services Citizens Committee will meet Thursday, February 16 at p.m. in the City Council room. All Greenbelters are invited to participate in the group's efforts to assure continuance of the food, pharmacy and auto services currently provided by Co-op.

The Board of Education has scheduled a hearing on Monday, Feb. 13 at Largo High School on "The Superintendency of the Prince Georges County Public Schools" at 7:30 p.m. The public hearing has been scheduled to receive comments and recommendations from the public concerning the qualities and qualifications necessary for the next Superintendent of Schools.

Those interested in speaking should call 952-4324 to register in advance. Individual speakers will be allocated three minutes while those representing a group will be given five minutes.

GHI Board Okays Drainage Study

by Mavis Fletcher

At the meeting on Jan. 12, the board of directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. authorized management to solicit bids for a comprehensive study that will include aerial mapping of the terrain occupied by GHI homes. The study was previously considered on Dec. 6 when the board, after much deliberation, asked management to come back with a modified proposal.

When it became apparent that the savings in doing a less comprehensive survey would not be large, the board decided unanimously to do the complete study. With the authorization of the drainage study and the December decision to authorize a program to repair structural damage to masonry homes reportedly caused by inadequate drainage, the board started the remedial programs to repair past water damage and prevent future problems from the same cause.

The board also voted to allow loans made under the Maryland

Housing Rehabilitation Program (MHRP) to continue with the unit (as most rehab loans do) instead of requiring that present members repay the loans in full at the time of sale. According to General Manager Shekar Narasimhan's summary, this would "put the MHRP borrowers on the same footing in terms of repayment as other GHI members whose rehab was financed by HUD and NCCB." Other concerns of the members who financed under MHRP were to be taken up at a January 19 meeting.

OPEN LETTERS

To Boxwood Citizens:

We are writing to our neighbors in Boxwood Village on a matter of critical importance to all of us—CRIME PREVENTION. During the past year, ten homes in Boxwood were either burglarized or broken into and vandalized—better than five percent of the 198 single-family residences in our subdivision. Within the last two weeks, houses on Lastner Lane and Hedgewood Drive were victimized after their front doors were kicked in. At another home on Lastner Lane, it appeared that no one was home last Friday afternoon. However, a female resident was home and noticed that her front door knob was being tampered with from the outside. When the door came open, she was confronted by a 6'4", 230-pound male intruder. Fortunately, he was startled by her presence, ran off and was later detained by the Greenbelt Police for interrogation.

Boxwood Village needs to organize an active mobile Crime Watch program, such as those already in operation in the Greenbriar and Lakewood sections of our city. Thirty residents of Boxwood have attended the Crime Watch training seminars conducted by our city police. However, to date, we have remained individual "static" watchers, monitoring the comings and goings on of our streets. We will need to coordinate these individualized resources into a concerted mobile Crime Watch.

Toward this end, the Boxwood Civic Association will sponsor a meeting on Tuesday, February 14 at 8 p.m. in the City Council Room at 25 Crescent Road. On this Valentine's Day, won't you partake in an effort to help protect the health and safety of your loved ones? The essentials for a successful mobile Crime Watch will be discussed and volunteers will be solicited for patrol duty. We need the involvement of all neighbors who would be willing to invest a very small portion of their time.

Of great importance is the identification of potential daytime Crime Watchers, since the vast majority of the crimes committed in Boxwood occur during the normal weekday working hours between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

We wish to stress that we are not advocating armed vigilance, but merely seeking to assist our police department by reporting suspicious activities.

Prevention Committee

Police Blotter

On January 30 at approximately 9 p.m. a female juvenile was the victim of an indecent exposure which occurred on the BW Parkway footbridge. She described him as a white male adult 20-25 years of age. He was last seen wearing a dark green parka with a hood, dark pants and he had a mustache and wore glasses. Investigation is continuing.

On January 31, a breaking and entering occurred during the daylight hours at a residence in the 7700 block of Hanover Parkway. Entry was gained through a patio door. A TV and stereo equipment were reported stolen.

On February 1 Photo World in Beltway Plaza reported the theft of several pieces of photographic equipment. Also on the same date a vandalism was reported involving the front doors of the Beltway Plaza Liquor Store.

Det./Cpl. McGrath arrested an adult male resident on an outstanding warrant for theft from Anne Arundel County Police Department. The person had sold property stolen in a breaking and entering in Crofton to a Greenbelt merchant who reported the transaction.

Unintentional Error

To the Editor:

The report by Joe Isaacs of the "Save Our Services Citizens Committee" meeting was a remarkably complete and accurate account of what took place.

Isaacs' account was only marred by an unintentional misstatement of fact for which I was responsible. I was quoted accurately, but I was wrong. I reported to the group that the attorneys, representing those of us who are undertaking court action if we cannot achieve our goals in any other way, had sent each member of the Board of Directors of Greenbelt Cooperative, Inc. a letter urging them to reverse their divestiture action.

Unfortunately, I was wrong. I had assumed that the letter had been sent by that time. Indeed, I thought that sufficient time had elapsed so that each board member had received the letter. I failed to check with the attorneys.

I regret that as a result of my incorrect report that others repeated the erroneous information. The last thing in the world I would ever do is to deliberately mislead anyone.

Robert A. Hill, 70, a resident of Greenbelt for the past 25 years, died on January 29 of a heart attack while he and his wife, Pauline, were vacationing in Florida.

Mr. Hill was born in Biddeford, Maine, and grew up in Orono, Maine. He graduated with "Highest Distinction" from the University of Maine in 1934 with a B.S. in Mechanical Engineering, and was awarded Departmental Honors. He was also elected to membership in Tau Beta Pi and in Phi Kappa Phi. He then attended MIT on a scholarship and in 1935 received a Masters Degree in Mechanical Engineering. Later he attended GWU Law School for a time.

Mr. Hill came to the Washington area in 1937. He spent the next 36 years with the U.S. Patent Office, first as a Patent Examiner and then as a Patent Classifier specializing in heat exchange mechanisms. He retired in 1973.

Favorite pastimes for Mr. Hill were travel and reading. He and his wife became avid campers in a house trailer over a number of years. He was a former member of the Board of Directors of Twin Pines Savings and Loan and belonged to Greenbelt's Golden Age Club. He was an active volunteer during his retirement years in various community service projects within Prince Georges County sponsored by the Retired Senior Volunteer Program.

Survivors include his wife, Pauline M. Hill; three daughters, Marianne T. Hill, Margaret P. Buchler, and Barbara J. Hill; a son, James M. Hill; a sister, Elinor Hinnman; and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on February 3 at Gate of Heaven Cemetery Chapel in Silver Spring, Md., followed by interment in the cemetery. The family has asked that donations in lieu of flowers be sent to the American Heart Association of Prince Georges County, 6216 Baltimore Blvd., Riverdale, Md. 20737.

You will receive a reply to your request as soon as possible.

Information

For information about your pre-construction inspection report and the particular work done to your unit, call the rehab office (474-2300). You can then ask to speak to the Construction Manager, Paul Jackson, of American Property Construction, Inc.

The GHI hotline (474-6644) can be called for general information about the rehab program and the status of special requests. The hotline's recorded message will also feature an updated schedule of rehab work from 5 p.m. to 9 a.m. weekdays and on weekends.

The next member information meeting on structural repairs is scheduled for 5-6:30 p.m. Monday, March 5 in the GHI Board Room. Call the hotline (474-6644) if this time presents a problem. If enough members request another time, a special meeting could be held.

CONSIDERING A CHANGE IN RESIDENCE?
There are three key elements to consider:
A) Your needs: things you positively have to have.
B) Your wants: things you'd like to have, but don't necessarily need.
C) Your qualifications:
1) Your initial investment (cash to move in)
2) Your total income (gross yearly income)
3) Your debt service (total indebtedness)

I would like the opportunity to discuss with you how we can combine these three factors to assist you and your family in achieving your housing goals both within Greenbelt and the metropolitan area - of course with no obligation.

GHI NOTES

GHI has contacted the phone company and doublechecked the question of maintenance of phone wiring. Members who elect to service their own lines instead of using the phone company would be responsible for the wiring from the phone jack inside their unit. They would be responsible only for the wiring inside their home and not the wiring in the crawl space. Management regrets any confusion on this issue.

REHAB LOAN DEFERRAL PROGRAM

The Rehab Loan Deferral Program (RLDP) is still available for qualified GHI members. For these members, RLDP can mean as much as $70.00 each month which can be used for something other than the rehab payment. Under the program, a portion of the rehab payment can be deferred and does not need to be repaid until the home is sold. This loan is assessed 3% accrued interest.

Eligibility is determined by financial status and rehab charges.

For more information about this program, contact Member Services Coordinator Maureen Osborne (474-6644).

ing which had already been scheduled by the board.

In other actions, the board approved the member information section of a revised Rules and Regulations Handbook (to be completed in September), declined to grant a member permission to sell his garage and set the date of the 1984 Annual Membership Meeting for May 16.

The board also took several actions to support efforts being made in response to the threatened closure of the Co-op food store and service station by Greenbelt Cooperative, Inc. (GCI). The GHI board voted to send a letter to GCI expressing GHI's concern and displeasure at the threatened closures. The board set up an ad hoc committee to work toward forming a new co-op or otherwise assuring the continued existence of a food store in the Center and to support other groups working toward this goal. The board also voted to provide some administrative support to such effort and authorized the expenditure of up to $200 for such support.

GHDC Business

The board, sitting as board of directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. Development Corporation, gave unanimous approval to a management recommendation that GHDC hire a construction management firm to supervise the structural repair program to be carried out in the masonry homes. In previous phases of rehab, GHDC was able to act as its own construction manager because it could recruit and retain qualified personnel for the rehab period; as most of these employees are no longer with GHDC and, according to Narasimhan, it would be almost impossible to recruit qualified personnel for the six-month period of the structural repair program.

The board also voted to negotiate agreements with Capitol Electric, the firm which did the heat conversion, for some relocation of service-side conduits, provision of extra baseboard heaters and air-to-air heat exchangers at the member's option. The need for extra heat in some units was emphasized by a petition from 13 Court of Hillside Rd. in which the signers complained of inadequate heat during the recent severe weather. In response to a query from Director Frank Gervasi, management also noted that the crew which is reinsulating crawl spaces had not been to this court and it was agreed that the crew should get to this court as soon as possible.

Help Save Our Co-op Store, Co-op Pharmacy and Co-op Service Station

Dear Fellow Co-op Members and Customers:

We are now organizing a new cooperative — Greenbelt Consumer Cooperative — to buy our local Co-op Food Store, Pharmacy and Service Station. We anticipate the price to be around $800,000, of which we will have to raise 20% from Co-op members in order to borrow 80% from the Bank.

We are asking for contributions and membership capital and loan capital. All receipts from membership capital and loan capital will be held in a savings account in the Greenbelt Federal Credit Union, and none of it will be used until the sale takes place. This should be March 31. If we are unable to buy the Store and Service Station, every penny of this membership and loan capital will be returned.
